European Appointments

Mr. Peter Fennema has joined the Wellington Drive Technologies Ltd. (Wellington) European team as a Field Applications Engineer. He has special responsibility for vibration and balancing performances of Wellington products and is based in The Netherlands.

Mr. Fennema is an engineer of over 20 years experience, including more than 10 years work and formal training with high performance rotating equipment, when employed by Carl Schenk AG and Stork Mufac. His skills add significant strength to the Wellington team in this important area.

Wellington's European sales team was also strengthened recently with the addition of Mr. Roberto Pedrinelli. Before joining Wellington he was responsible for after market sales and support in Italy and Southern Europe for the battery manufacturer Exide (Italy), and has background in electrical and mechanical engineering. Mr. Pedrinelli is based in Italy.
